PECULIAR WEDDINGS.

The old Swedes' church in Philadelphia was the famous marrying-ground for nearly two hagared years to all the neighborhood and the churches in that vicinity. The record-book of that venerable parish is teeming with mar riages. Puere has to be an "extension" made to that department is every new register. Notes and memoranda adorn the pages of the wedding columns, explanatory of the different couples. One elergyman kept a list of foreign sailors (with a wife very probably in every large port) and runnway country-girls whom he had refused to unite in matrimony because of his suspicions, or because of the lateness of the hour, or of the absence of witnesses. Colored weddings have always a richly humorous side. The educed race is a susceptible, imitative one, and when they are fine, as at weddings, they are generally super fine. A clergyman was called on upon one occasion to officiate at a colored wedding. We as use, s.h, said the gentleman'y darkey, "that this yere wedding, sah, is to be "Very well," replied the dergyman, "I will try to do everything in my power to grantly the wishes of the parties.

So after the dinner and dancing and supping was over, the groom's "best man" called again on the minister, and left him a ten-dollar

"I hope everything was as your friends de desired it ?" sail the urbine clergymin. "Well, sah to tel the truth, Mr. Johnson was a little disappointed," answered the grooms-

"Why, I took my robes," said the minister. "Yes sah-it wasn't that. "I adhered to the rubiles of the church."

"Yes, sah, that was all right." "I was punctual and shook hands with the couple. What more could I do?" "Well, sah, Mr. Johnson he kind o' feit hurt, you see, because you didn't salute the

I remember a friend who, in the early days of his ministry, was met by a couple, as he came out of church, who wanted to be married. He turned back to oblige the party, and found at the last that they made up their to purchasers. [oc20] D. F. WITMER CO. mends to drive off in their buggy to some other

"But may I ask," be inquired of the man. "why you first ask me to marry you, and then change your mirds in this was?"

No arswer came from the groom, but the young woman, lifting up the back curtain of the buggy, called out : "Well, you see, I hado't got a look at the minister afore, and, to tell the truth, you're so young and innocent-like that I'm kind of leared you won't marry us right, and so I'd rather trust myself to some one who's done it a good many times, and is sure he

THE ORANGE CROP .-- The orange crop this season promises to be one of the most important and valuable ever gathered At Bradish Johnson's and Magnolia the yield is immense, the former having the fruit of ten thousand trees for sale. At William Smith's place pear Bolivar Point, the golden fruit is so plentiful and delicious that it would tempt one almost as much as to possess a gold mine. The prices of fruit have heretofore been so much influenced and damaged by a ring of fruit venders as purchasers that it was difficult for the producer to realize any benefits from the products- We are informed that a movement is now on foot among the owners of orange groves to ship the fruit direct to agents in the North and East, and thus do away with so many handlings that now eat up the profits. As it is now it passes through seven or eight distinct charges before it reaches New Orleans, and the consequent offerings by the ring to first hands is tremend ously less than when placed on sale in N.w Orleans. Cheap fruit is a great desideratum, and the change contemplated will tend to effect such an object. We have been informed that one tree in Cameron parish produced last year 8 000 marketable oranges, but of course this is extraordinary, the average yield of a well advanced orchard being not more than 1.500 to 2 000 to the tree. Praquemine parish is one of the most frunful in the whole State of Louisiana, and this year she will undoubtedly exceed herself in sugar, rice and orange crops. -- New Orleans Picayune.

SHOCKING DEPRAYITY. - Louis and William Rock, brothers, aged 17 and 15 years, have for two years ted immoral lives. A few months ago they fled from home, and were not again seen by their parents until last evening, when they entered their home as burglars.

On Salurday they sent a letter to their father, who lives at No. 49 Ludlow street, to the effect that Detective Kealy, of the Central Office, knew where Dick Rodney (Louis Rock) was, and could arrest him if he, the father, would go to 300 Mulberry street. The letter purported to be signed by Detective Kealy, and Mr. Renk obeyed the summons.

As soon as he had left the house his sons forced open the back door of the house, and then suddenly appeared before their astonished mother and brothers. They pulled pistols and dirk knives from their pockets, and drove their brothers, one of whom is very young, into another room, where they locked them in They then seiz d their mother, and while Louis held her by the throat and pointed a pistol at her head, William robbed her of her jewelry, consisting of a gold watch, locket, and chain. They also stole her pocket book. containing a few deliars. They then threat cued to kill her and their brothers if they attempted to prevent them from making their escape. They then left the house and proceeded to No. 282 West Twenty-sixth street, where they were taken into custody-N. Y.
